

Welcome to Reggio Island, a tropical paradise! All arriving flights touch down in the capital, Geckoville. To travel from Geckoville to Gatorville, drive southwest for 12 miles. By traveling directly north from Geckoville for two miles, you will arrive at the beach town of Stingray City. Finally, if mountain climbing is your passion, travel northwest to the far end the island to reach Mount Zebra.

Reggio Island has many activities to satisfy even the pickiest of travelers. Go on a tour of the tropical rainforest for a once in a lifetime adventure. Mountain climbers will love to climb Mount Zebra, the tallest peak in the southern hemisphere. If relaxation is your goal, look no further than the golden serene beaches that line the northern shore of the island. Finally, there are always pickup games of baseball, basketball and soccer in the grasslands located in the center of the island.

The weather on Reggio Island is ideal. Year round daytime temperatures hover around 80 degrees for most of the year, with night time lows in the mid 60's. The only exception to these temperatures is at the top of Mount Zebra, where it rarely gets above 40 degrees.